MEETING SPACES AND HOW THEY ARE USED

Meeting rooms are expensive resources and are rarely used to a productive capacity. Add to this the time spent trying to source a suitable room or sorting out double bookings and it's no wonder they can be a source of frustration.

WHAT RETURN CAN I EXPECT FROM MY LISO?

The average cost for an average meeting room in a large city is estimated at £20,000 per annum, including building space, electricity, heating, equipment etc.

Using Evoko Liso you can lower the number of rooms needed and even avoid having to move to larger premises by making optimal use of your existing space.

The Liso solution provides you with all the statistics analytics to measure your own return.
